Financial Report was read and passed around by Jan Fedorow.

Membership: No change from last month.

May 2009 Show - Profit/Loss: Jan Fedorow reported that we made a substantial profit this year. Detailed reports were made available for review by those present at the meeting.

Hi-Point: Candy Larsen reported that 11 people are participating and that we have 16 divisions.

Newsletter: The Jun/July newsletter is done and waiting to be emailed out to the membership. It is posted on our website and available to read. Our website is: www.niahac.com Regional Meeting: We will not have representation at the meeting this year because our delegates are not available. The issues at hand for the upcoming meeting were discussed.

Brian Hunt Benefit Show: Brian Hunt was in a terrible accident over the 4th of July weekend. A Benefit Open Show is being held at Bounds on October 11th. Charlotte Kletecka suggested donating some glasses as prizes and $100. Candy Larsen seconded the motion. Candy Larsen also brought up Brian's horse and need for care. The Show Bill and donation info will be in the next newsletter.

Futurity Report: Candy Larsen reported that a meeting was held recently to go over the rules and entry form. We are going to give a one year reprieve for nominating your horse to try and get more horse back into the Futurity. There are only nine mare nominations this year. We did have a good turn out at the show in May for the futurity, especially in the Half-Arabian classes. We will mail out to everyone in NIAHAC and who showed at our show to try and interest people in our futurity. We need to encourage people to be in the futurity to keep it alive until the economy turns around. We are doing fundraisers. Pat from Richmond Saddlery donated a horse statue that we will raffle off. Ideas to make the futurity better were discussed. Rorie brought up the garlands. We will buy the supplies and Linda Pawlowski will make the garlands for us again. The futurity committee will have another meeting on August 12th at Candy Larsen's house at 7:00 p.m. Candy Larsen brought again the need for an annual detailed financial report on the futurity and it was discussed. Payouts were discussed as well, including what funds are rolled over for next year and what is paid out.

Arabian Horse Lover Patrick Swayze Dies at 57

Patrick Swayze, a passionate and valued member of the Arabian horse community died from pancreatic cancer complications at the age of 57. Swayze was known to most as a dancer and actor in films such as “Dirty Dancing,” “Roadhouse” and “Ghost.” To the Arabian horse community he was an accomplished and giving horseman. An active participant at Arabian shows throughout the late 80s and early 90s, Swayze’s star power helped bring attention to the Arabian breed. Swayze’s true passion for the horse earned him utmost respect in the horse community. Although Swayze’s bond with horses started as a child, he claimed he did not fully realize the potential relationship with a horse until later. “When you get a bond happening with a horse, it’s interesting. I was raised a cowboy and did some rodeo and stuff and thought I was a horseman. Found out I knew nothing. As I have gotten into these horses, [Arabians] I have realized how far you can go with them,” said Swayze in a 1994 video interview. In 1991, the same year Swayze was named People Magazine’s Sexiest Man Alive, he bought the stallion Tammen from Tom McNair and during the next year the stallion was honored with several halter championships. “Over the years it’s happened — people gradually started seeing that I am serious about this and I care more about the horses than my little image. I am accepted now so going grand champion there was like a big event for me,” said Swayze. Swayze owned more than a dozen purebred Arabians and became an active breeder. Tammen, Swayze’s 1982 Champion stallion, sired 175 foals. A photograph of Swayze with Tammen was made into a poster and established as a youth fundraiser during the early 90s. The poster, now in limited supply, continues to help fund AHA Youth Programs. “We at the Arabian Horse Association and our some 35,000 members mourn the loss of a great American icon, Patrick Swayze. He was an ardent lover of the Arabian horse and his passion for the breed would always spill over into the audience when he showed his beautiful horses — particularly with young people. His close friends called him ‘Buddy’ and that sentiment seemed to define his character, as I always found him to be a man of significant humility and grace. The Arabian horse has lost a dear friend and our prayers go out to his wife Lisa and family, and everyone who loved him. His significant contributions to the Arabian horse will not be forgotten,” said Lance Walters, Arabian Horse Association president. Swayze is said to have passed away peacefully after facing the challenges of his illness for the last 20 months.

“To know the Arabian horse is to love him.”
